

STS and iAxxcess sign agreement to provide security solutions

STS, Jordan's leading IT solutions provider has signed an official partnership with iAxxcess, a leading regional distributor and channel management and focusing on security products and services.

This partnership will see STS provide its wide client-base with best-of-breed and award-winning Internet security solutions such as Kaspersky Lab and Acronis disaster and recovery solutions. These proposed solutions will address small, medium and large enterprises in an added portfolio that will further enhance STS product line and solution provision to clients.

"At STS, we are making our utmost best to provide the local and regional market with top-of-the-line IT solutions along with unrivaled support. It is noteworthy that the products offered through this partnership have proved to be cost-effective and of robust technology." Commented Ramzi Zeine, STS Executive Chairman.

Adnan Abu Sharar, CEO of iAxxcess said "We strongly believe that this is a strategic partnership and that is reflected through the superiority of STS knowledge and highly-regarded reputation throughout the entire region. The dynamic and assertive management at STS highly contributes to this agreement being a strategic one. iAxxcess in-depth knowledge and support on the products it offers will solidify positioning and increase of its market share."
